PRESIDENT'S SON PASSED AWAY MONDAY

Quite a gloom hung over the White House when Calvin Coolidge, Jr. passed away at 10:30 on Monday evening. The young lad of 16 was stricken with septic poisoning and from the first his condition was considered serious. He braved the disease for several days but after operations, transfusions of blood and all that medical skill could do brought to relief the hopes of the attendants were shattered and a constant watch for the inevitable was all that could be done. The President took his place beside the bedside and prayed for the lad's recovery and the mother sat and prayed constantly for the Lord to be merciful but the time had come for this bright and active young fellow to be surrendered to Maker and all resigned to God's will. The Nation pored out its sympathy in no unmistakable way for the grieving family and the boy's family of young friends.

The funeral was conducted in a simple manner, according to the President's wishes, he being opposed to any pomp or show at such a solemn moment. He was taken to his home in Northampton, Massachusetts for burial, where funeral services were conducted at the Coolidge home.

Mrs. John L. Corle

Mrs. Flora V. (Gillchrist) Corle, wife of Mr. John L. Corle, died at her home on East Pitt Street, last Tuesday, July 8, after suffering for many weeks. She was born at Wolfsburg, March 24, 1850, her parents being Thomas and Catherine Gillchrist long since deceased. Her marriage to John L. Corle took place December 13, 1882 to which union there is one daughter, besides her husband, surviving. Mrs. James S. Davidson, of Bedford. Two brothers, Harry and David Gillchrist and one sister Mrs. Margaret Points all of Bedford survive. The funeral will be held today, Friday, from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Davidson, conducted by Rev. J. Albert of the Reformed Church of which she has been a member for years. The "fact" since her childhood. Interment will be in the Bedford cemetery.

ANOTHER DATE FOR MAKING BONUS APPLICATIONS

For this reason another opportunity will be given, Wednesday evening at 8 P. M. July 16 in the basement of the Bedford County Trust Company. This will be in conjunction with the regular meeting of the Legion.

Thatching One of Oldest Arts.

Thatching is perhaps one of the oldest arts in the world, for it dates back to the time when the first man hit on the idea of putting a few rushes on the roof of his hut to keep the rain out. But, like so many of the old arts, it is dying out, and first-class thatchers are few and far between, remarks London Answers.

COMMUNITY OUTING AT KILCOINS GROVE

Thursday, July 31st.

Last week it was announced that our Community Outing would be held in Hershberger's Grove, near Cresson, but on account of the lateness of the Harvest Season the Hershberger Grove will not be obtainable this year and instead our Outing will be held in Kilcoins Grove.

This Outing is for everybody and we want all to make arrangements to spend that day in the woods with your neighbor.

There will be something doing every minute of the day. Base Ball, Swimming, Races, Horse Shoe pitching, and many different contests for all to take part. Prizes, furnished by the business men of Bedford, will be given to the winners of the Races and Contests.

Remember the place is Kilcoins Grove. The Date is Thursday, July 31st. Come get better acquainted with your neighbors.

SUMMER SCENES

There in an English book of vers folks ought to read and know, although it does not move in rhyme the way my writings go. James Thompson is the poet; his book is called the Seasons—I heartily endorse the same for several different reasons.

He sings of autumn's fruit and grain, of how a bonie youth made love among the harvest sheaves, as Boaz did with Ruth. He sings of rural winter joys, defying closing snow, while round about the cheerful fire pre-Volstead flagons go. He sings of gentle spring that comes to break grim winter's reign, to scatter grass and violets on every hill and plain; but best of all he loves warm days, devoting many pages to rural scenes and labors what times the dog star rages. He sings of cultivated fields of flock upon the lea and then describes one special scene that makes a hit with me—how to the creek a maiden came, most sweet of all Eve's daughters, and hung her clothes on a hickory limb then dived beneath the waters. She stood not long upon the bank, yet would have dive much spryer if she had known her beau by chance was fishing there to spy'er. Now wasn't he a lucky cuss as ever his the pike? Although I often fish myself I never saw the like.

I watched him when unconscious, he knew not what pain or grief could be. But slowly breather his life away.

I watched him to when life had gone. His peaceful face said do not mourn; His painful limbs and heaving breast In heaven now finds eternal rest;

I try to live like he did live He was upright, honest, just to all. Now sweetly rest my darling dear; In memory thou art always near.

"LIBERAL PRINCIPLES MUST PREVAIL" DAVIS SAYS IN ACCEPTANCE

NEW YORK, July 9—John W. Davis, in accepting the Democratic nomination for the presidency, this afternoon issued the following statement:

The history of National conventions may be searched in vain for one which is as excellent in freedom or frankness of discussion or whose actions have been more clearly the result of the unfettered wishes of the assembled delegates.

The resolution and endurance they have exhibited is but proof of their sense of the solemn responsibility to the country under which they acted and

Lesson for July 13

THE BOYHOOD OF JESUS

LESSON TEXT—Luke 2:4-52.

GOLDEN TEXT—"And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man."—Luke 2:52.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Boy Jesus in God's House.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Boy Jesus.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Four-Fold Life.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Lessons From the Boyhood of Jesus.

1. Jesus Growing (v. 40).

While Jesus Christ was God, yet His deity did not interfere with His development as a human being. The processes of His physical, mental and spiritual growth were the same as in any normal human being.

2. "Grew and waxed Strong." It was necessary for His body to develop. His brain, nerves and muscles must not only attain unto their proper size but must come to act together, become correlated.

3. "Filled With Wisdom." His training was largely in the needs of His mother. She was a Bible woman, as evidenced by her song or praise when it was announced to her that God's favor was to come upon her. She was, therefore, a suitable teacher. She, no doubt, taught Him to commit Bible verses to memory and taught Him the great stories of the Old Testament from the creation through the patriarchs and prophets.

4. "And the Grace of God Was Upon Him." By the grace of God doubtless is meant God's loving favor and tender care.

5. Jesus Tarrying Behind at Jerusalem (vv. 41-43).

At the age of twelve years the Jewish child took His place as a worshiper in the temple. He was then considered "a child of the law." Being conscious of His mission, when His mother and Joseph were returning from attendance at the Passover, Jesus tarried behind in the temple and inquired into the meaning of the ordinances of God's house. He had an alert, eager mind which inquired after truth, especially the truth concerning His Father's house. His heart yearned for His Father.

6. Jesus Found in the Temple (vv. 44-47).

When His mother and Joseph had gone some distance on their return journey they perceived that Jesus was not with them and sought for Him among their kinsfolk and acquaintances. Not finding Him there, they returned to Jerusalem, where they found Him in the temple.

7. He Was Sitting (v. 46). This shows that He was no passing visitor or sightseer. He was perfectly at home in His Father's house.

8. He Was Hearing the Teachers of God's Word (v. 46). This shows that He was eager to learn God's will.

9. He Asked Questions (v. 46). His growing mind was inquisitive. It more than received what was taught. It inquired after truth.

10. He Answered Questions (v. 47). His answers showed great wisdom, such as to astonish those who heard Him, yet we should not surmise that He was consciously displaying His wisdom. It was not an exhibition of His divine wisdom, but the expression of the workings of a perfect human mind suffused by the Holy Spirit.

11. Mary's Complaining (vv. 48-50).

She remonstrated with Him for His behavior. To this He replied in a dignified, yet tender manner. He made no apology, showing that He was more than the son of Mary. God was His Father. Though Mary did not understand these things, as a wise mother she kept them in her heart.

12. V. Jesus' Obedience (v. 51).

Though He was fully conscious of His divine being and mission he lived a life full of filial obedience, thus teaching us that obedience to parents is pleasing to God and a duty which will be discharged faithfully by those who have the Spirit of Christ.

13. Jesus' Development (v. 52).

1. Mental. He increased in wisdom. Although the divine nature was united with the human, the human was left free to develop as a normal human being.

2. Physical. He increased in stature. This shows that His body developed according to the laws of a normal human being.

3. Spiritual. He increased in favor with God and man. As His mind increased, and His apprehension of God became more full, the Divine Being could more fully express Himself through Him and, as the perfect life was lived, men could recognize in Him superior qualities and therefore their hearts would open to Him.

14. Jesus' Development (v. 53).

2. Physical. He increased in stature.

This shows that His body developed according to the laws of a normal human being.

3. Spiritual. He increased in favor with God and man.

15. Little Regard for Others

A self-centered sinner is self-satisfied, selfish, conceited, contented with himself, but has little regard for others.—The Living Word.

16. Preaching and Salvation

Sentimental preaching affects the feelings, but only conviction of sin effects salvation.—The Living Word.

17. Helping Others

Sometimes a good way to help others is by keeping on in their way.

18. Brevity, the Soul of Wit

As a street car arrived at a point in Montreal a woman who had been riding on the car commenced to argue with the conductor.

Transfer which a conductor on the car had given her. She got off at the car entrance and kept a crowd of people from getting on.

After completing a long and perfectly coherent story, she got off, in the relief of the conductor.

Conductor shook his head sadly and remarked: "She ain't well!"—H. Monthly.

HUGH

COPYRIGHT BY THE BOBBS-MERRILL CO.

nal for one of the coach guards to join him. If more than one rides up, all the better. This guard, or guards, must be disposed of quietly as was the first. We in ambush will help, using the noose if possible. Their horses must not be frightened and must be secured in the woods. At the very least we will have cut down the number of guards to eight, with but seven by the coach, one of these being Number Four. Number Three will wait opposite the ambush until the coach comes up. He and Number Four will take the six guards by surprise, covering them with four six-guns. We in ambush will instantly take a load and secure the car. "Here and I will then roll back to meet the two rear guards and have 'em by surprise. I already have a safe cache for the billion. This is the plan in outline. Any suggestions or questions?"

"The only drawback is that Three and Four will be marked men," spoke up Number Two. "Bad for us on the inside less we settle the hash of the ten," grumbled Number Three. "That would be going it too strong," protested Number Four, with a shiver in his voice.

Number One sharply said:

"Both Three and Four are already wanted for murder. One in Idaho; the other in Nevada. Yet they live here in Deadwood City and move about openly. Once we get the treasure we will scatter. The hills, game is nearly played out. Let others stay and pick up the crumbs and a rope."

"Seeas as I was getting the hot end on the poker" growled Number Three.

"Might as well sentence me to death and be done with it," bitterly complained Number Four.

"Rewards are offered for both of you. You haven't done a soul of damage yet," grimly replied the leader. "A swift horse, a change of surroundings, a new name and with forty or fifty thousand dollars to burn you're no one to be caught. Or if either of you refuse to play the part I pick for you, say so now."

"There's no room for shaming. If you don't want to be killed let me do it in the leader's place. It was fully understood."

"I can't understand Number Four. I never squeaked yet," snarled Number Three.

"Then that's settled and woe to the man who tries to buck down" said the leader. "Anything else?"

"I have a suggestion to make," spoke up Number Two. "Let Three and Four draw lots to see who shall take the inside job and leave the second place vacant until I can try to secure another man for the second guard. It doesn't much matter what happens to him after the job is finished. He will know nothing about the rest of you, and if, by any chance he is captured there will be nothing he can tell."

Both Three and Four were eager to accept any scheme which would give one of them a chance to dodge the dangerous position of coach guard. Both proclaimed their satisfaction and wished the lot-drawing to be conducted on the spot.

Number One said:

"No lights to be shown at our little meetings. We must remember the rules. Lots may be drawn within a few days if we decide to adopt Number Two's plan. I rely on his judgment. I will talk with him about this new plan of his. But until I have decided, the first order stands and there will be no drawing of lots. You will now wait the usual time before leaving the room."

While this secret conference was being held—and the hour was yet early for Deadwood's night life—Dinsdale was forgetting San Juan Joe's warning of the night before and was busily making local history. He began in "Keno" Frank's place. The moment Dinsdale entered the hall he drew the attention of all. Even those placing their bets took time to glance at the "greenback man." The story of his game at San Juan's place was commonly known, thanks much to French Curly's advertising; only his losses were said to have been twenty thousand. Curly was at the faro table, losing his poker winnings, when Dinsdale entered and briskly walked to the bar and invited the house to join him.

Because of his losses Curly was more venomous than usual, if that be possible. He fingered his few remaining chips and stared at Dinsdale, convinced it was a personal misfortune that the newcomer should throw away money which might so easily be taken from him at cards. The "greenback man" had forgotten his losses at San Juan's place, or else they were immaterial to him, and now was in a rare humor. Carelessly throwing more money on the bar he directed that drinks be served again to all who might care to partake. The accept-

Franklin.—Mystery in the disappearance of Mrs Lena Owens Urmson from her home in this city the night of April 1 was cleared with the finding of her body in the Allegheny river, a mile north of Foxburg, Pa. The body of her 6-year-old son Donald was taken from the river near Kittanning May 16. Marital troubles and brooding over them for several years are held by relatives to be responsible for the woman's act. She and her son are thought to have leaped to death from a cliff overlooking French creek near the junction of the stream with the Allegheny river.

Warren.—A still at the United Refinery exploded resulting in the death of Melvin Fins, who was caught under a shower of burning oil.

Chester.—This city has been selected as the convention city for the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge Fraternal Order of Beavers, commencing August 18.

Hazleton.—Burglars who smashed the window at the jewelry store of Felix Blumer with a padded brick found only paper covered shelves.

Meadville.—Dorothy Anthony, aged 9, of Geneva, and C. L. Reynolds, aged 47, a conductor on the Erie railroad, are dead, and damage to houses, barns and crops amounting to thousands of dollars followed the trail of the second terrific wind storm in a week which covered the district last week. Six houses at Geneva were flattened, their occupants narrowly escaping death as they fled to the cellars. A brick church in Union township was blown down and the train between Chicago and New York was delayed several hours while the crew cut their way through fallen trees for a mile or more.

Reading.—In a family quarrel, William D. Welsh, aged 61, was shot under the right arm, the bullet causing a flesh wound, and his daughter, Mrs. Veronika Miraglia, aged 31, was slashed across the face. Welsh was arrested after treatment at a hospital. His daughter said she shot him after he attacked her with a razor.
